

ABSTRACT OF THE INVENTION

Systems and processes to simplify and streamline the printing of documents containing both black and white and color pages. The invention uses a raster imaging processor to manage the organization and execution of the print job. In addition, the invention generates an operator instruction sheet to ensure proper completion of the print job.